You will be taking part in an extra-curricular RPE Reading Group which runs throughout the year. I have ordered a wide selection of books for our library which you will have access to in September.

Over the holiday I would like you to read at least one book on Philosophy, Ethics or Religion (Christianity), whichever interests you. There are plenty available from Waterstones or other bookshops as well as your local library!

I would like you to write a book report which you will share with the class, please find the book report form below.

Enjoy the holidays and we look forward to meeting you in September!
